The Herald Sends Jolt To California

You can get a jolt sometimes out of news that is neither gruesome nor sensational.

Mrs. Gene Duncan, of Belle Glade, sat quietly reading her weekly copy of The Belle Glade Herald at Camp Pendleton, Calif., where her husband was stationed until recently as a first lieutenant in the Marine Corps. Suddenly she jumped up and dashed next door to show her neighbor an item that frightened them both.

Mrs. Duncan had just read a report from Assistant County Agent John Causey about poisonous plants around the house

—like oleander.

"We had oleander growing all over the place and my neighbor had seven children playing and scuffling all over the place," Mrs. Duncan explained.

The article in the Herald was based on a pamphlet issued by the Agricultural Extension Service.

It pointed out that although the oleander produces a beautiful flower, all parts of the plant are poisonous if eaten. One leaf is reported to be sufficient to kill an adult, and dry leaves are almost as toxic as even ones.

The pamphlet also pointed out that children may be poisoned by carrying oleander flowers around in their mouths at play or by inhaling smoke from the stems used in roasting frankfurters.

Mrs. Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farmer, is on temporary duty this week at the county office building here. Lt. Duncan is scheduled to report in San Diego, Calif., August 1 for sea duty, and Mrs. Duncan plans to leave for San Diego in a couple of months.

At Glades Market

Florida's First Graded Calf Sale Brings Enthusiastic Buyer Response

With more than 800 Florida steer calves going on the block before a packed audience at the Glades livestock auction market last Friday night, this first South Florida graded feeder sale drew praise from far and near as a highly successful operation.

Total receipts for the sale reached $61,644.74, with an average price of $17.59 per 100 weight. The calves showed an average weight of 428 pounds per head.

A choice Hereford group averaged 510 pounds per head brought top price of $21.75 per hundred, followed by a choice Angus group weighing an average of 437 pounds and selling at $20.25 per hundred.

Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner spoke briefly before the auction started. He commended the cattlemen and the marketing committee for their efforts in making this first such auction an outstanding project and for their continued work towards improving the cattle industry.

Gilbert Tucker, Chairman of the Marketing Committee of the Florida Cattlemen's Association, pointed out that the Glades auction was the climax of a year's hard work by his committee. He said this type of graded feeder market had been pushed for three years and should be of much help to cattlemen in this area.

"The fine success of this first sale of its type in South Florida and the enthusiasm shown by all concerned indicates that the cattle industry is on the way upward," said Col. Bob Cooper, the auctioneer. Much land development now is going into pastures, he stated, and in the next two or three years there will most likely be a substantial growth in the cattle business.

Since the Glades auction was considered a demonstration sale, with emphasis on grading, cattlemen learned much about marketing their beef. For example, Col. Cooper pointed out, the heavier weight calves brought higher prices and group of 50 or more were easier to sell than smaller groups.

Buyers from Florida to the Midwestern states attended the sale, which was sponsored by the Florida Cattlemen's Association with cooperation from the Florida Department of Agriculture.

A negotiated contract, for $2,400,000, was awarded to Collins Radio Co., of Dallas, Tex., for an intercom system to be used in pre-launch checkout of the Gemini and Apollo spacecraft.

The other contract, for $2,197,500, was awarded to Smith and Sapp Construction Co., of Orlando, for additional supply and maintenance facilities in the industrial area.

The voice-operated intercom system will be in the Manned Spacecraft Operations and Checkout Building. It will have 120 separate stations linked by a coaxial cable for simultaneous communication during checkout procedures.

Four bid proposals were received for the work, which includes design of the system as well as the equipment and its installation. Collins Radio has a year to complete the project.

Expansion of the supply and maintenance facilities for the John F. Kennedy Space Center, NASA, will be a four-part job with final completion scheduled for May 1965.

The work will include an additional 40,000 square feet of space for office and storage purposes at the Central Supply Building; an additional 45,000 square feet for administrative and maintenance at the Plant Maintenance Facility; construction of a 70,000-square-foot Range Storage and Supply Building; and construction of a 10,000-square-foot building for storing petroleum products.

Canaveral District of the Corps of Engineers also announced that it has awarded a $4,150 contract to Akwa-Dwaine Construction Co., of Milwaukee, Wis., for alterations to Launch Complex 34 at Cape Kennedy to handle the installation of a high pressure hydrogen system for NASA's Saturn I-5 rockets. The work must be finished by October.

Off-white shade continues to be the most popular color for automobiles despite strong challenges by other hues, according to the American Automobile Association.

"Latest information on car color preferences available from Detroit shows that white, which leaped to first place in 1955, continues to reign as the number one choice of car buyers," said William B. Weltons, Director of Traffic and Safety for the East Florida Division.

"Surprisingly, the second-place preference is medium brown, which as recently as 1957 was hardly even listed," he said.

Medium blue and turquoise are highly popular, rating third and fourth places respectively. Most spectacular decline in popularity has been registered by light green which was in first place ten years ago, and is now down to less than one per cent.

"Detroit auto makers conduct continuous gauding games, hoping the buyer will take a car from the showroom floor," Weltons noted. "They suspect of a color in which the wife is most interested, and no matter what color she wears, it won't clash with the color of the car!"

"very good." V. E. Whitehurst, of Williston, agreed the auction was a good demonstration in cattle marketing, and should prove helpful to all beef growers attending.

Catt groups totaling 241 head were purchased by the H. E. Wolf Ranch at a total cost of $19,652.08. The Whitehurst ranch at Williston was successful bidder on 145 head costing $12,288.66. The Magnolia ranch bought 104 head for $7,466.45.

Other buyers participating in the auction included James & Chambliss, Swift & Co., and the George Dempsey ranch.

Although some observers thought prices were a bit on the low side, marketing officials explained that beef market prices today are running from $7 to $8 per 100 lower than a year ago.

Ranches and firms from a wide area in South Florida sent graded calves to the sale. Consigners included the following: Billy Rogers Farms, South Bay; Remsburg Ranch, Ft. Lauderdale; Lewis Friend, Pahokee; Stein Cattle Co., Belle Glade; Immokalee Ranch, Immokalee; Bruce Remsburg, Ft. Lauderdale; Ray Rowland, Okeechobee; Delena Rowland, Canaveral; Robert Rowland, St. Ranch, Inc., Clewiston; Clark & Woodward, Ft. Lauderdale; John Brown, Kissimmee; C. S. Radebaugh, Ft. Pierce; J. Ryan, Dania; M & M Ranch, Loxahatchee; U. S. Sugar Corp., Clewiston; and Al Adams & Son, Ft. Pierce.

Corps Award Two $2 Million Merritt Island Moon Launch Area

A pair of $2 million contracts has been awarded by the Canaveral District of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers for new work in the industrial portion of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Merritt Island moon launch area.

A negotiated contract, for $2,400,000, was awarded to Collins Radio Co., of Dallas, Tex., for an intercom system to be used in pre-launch checkout of the Gemini and Apollo spacecraft.

Child Discipline Involves More Than Getting Obedience

To succeed in disciplining preschoolers, parents must be convinced that discipline involves more than getting obedience. They should realize that discipline provides a learning situation for children, says Miss Mary Todd, Palm Beach County Home Demonstration Agent.

She points out that discipline helps to broaden children's emotional range. As babies, they have feelings only about what pleases and what hurts them. Miss Todd explains that punishment has a place in teaching discipline to preschoolers. However, its use should generally be limited to teaching one specific lesson. For example, by punishing a child for touching a trolley not to touch an electrical outlet. But they cannot punish him into being generous, kind or considerate.

Two other techniques, sometimes called "silent forces," operate effectively with preschoolers. Psychologists call these techniques maturation and identification. Identification means that children change as they watch what their parents do. They try to do what their parents do because they want to please them.

According to Miss Todd, it is better to rely on maturation and identification as a means of discipline whenever preschool children are acting their age. For example, it's natural for toddlers to break things, for two-year-olds to be stubborn and possessive, for two and three-year-olds to hit, bite and kick when they quarrel and for four and five-year-olds to call people names.

The more parents can accept what children do because they are the age they are, the more good they do their children. Of course, it's a good idea to work on children's undesirable behavior, but it's also wise to display some tolerance.

The way parents discipline should never curb youngsters' desire to question, find and examine existing practices in search of a better way.

For further information on disciplining preschool youngsters, Miss Todd recommends these books: "The Child Under Six" by James Hymes, published by Educational Services, Washington, D. C. and "The Ge-

Dr. Nave Speaks To Methodists

Dr. J. W. Nave, of Indianapolis, and former missionary to India, will be the guest minister at the morning worship service at Community Methodist Church.

In 1948, Dr. and Mrs. Nave began a major rehabilitation program at Lodhipur Institute, India's pioneer industrial-technical school. The purpose of the Institute is to provide orphaned boys, a Christian home, education, and the opportunity to learn a trade. This program is vitally evangelistic. It directly meets the challenge of what is probably the greatest evangelistic opportunity in India today.

While in Belle Glade, Dr. and Mrs. Nave will be guests of Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth.

Gainesville. The South nosed out the North team 20-14.

Vic Venos and John Causey, of Belle Glade, and Harold Peacock, of Palooka, were the only South all-star football players to represent the 15 high schools in District 11.

Venos played almost the entire game as right offensive tackle and turned up a fine performance. Coach Bill Burke said, Causey was on the kick-off and punting team and served as defensive line backer.

Young Peacock probably made more tackles than anybody in the game as a defensive line backer for the South, and as an offensive fullback he led the way with his fine blocking for many of the main game's Southern chafers.

Coach Burke said passing was good by both sides and set up most of the touchdowns.

In connection with the annual all-star game, Coaches Burke, Davis and Crawford attended a three-day coaching clinic at which the guest speaker was Coach Darrell Royal, of the University of Texas, the national champions last season.

Four stills and three distilleries in Holmes County yielded 1900 gallons of mash to the beverage department during '63; two were arrested and one reported tried.

In Dade, two distilleries and three stills produced 1210 gallons of mash and 24 gallons of shine.

St. Lucie came up with one still and a distillery and 700 gallons of mash.

Hillsboro's two of each had 510 gallons of mash and 25 gallons of shine.

Gadsden and Clay each produced 1350 gallons of mash from two of each in Gadsden and two distilleries and three stills in Clay.

Baker's supply was only 650 of mash, Nassau 550, and Okaloosa was low with 300 gallons of mash.

Duval furnished 320 of mash and 97 of shine, while Hillsboro produced 510 of mash and 25 of shine.

Fourteen of Florida's counties turned up with stills.

However, the Director reports that, collections one year ago for a similar 12-month period reached $39,680,560.57, showing this year's collections at a 35.21 per cent increase over last year. The Director attributed part of the huge increase to the rise in tax on both cigarettes and beverages ordered at the last session of the Legislature.

Magistrate's Court Will Be Recessed

Following his regular session next Monday, Judge James L. Tyson, Jr., plans to leave for a short vacation, recessing Magistrate's Court here until August 24.

The court office will remain open as usual, with Deputy Clerk Miss Barbara York in charge. Any emergency cases arising during the court's recess will be taken to county courts at West Palm Beach.

However, Assistant County Solicitor Billy Jackson will continue his regular schedule, handling any criminal matters needing attention.

S. Bay Youth Kills Self With Borrowed Gun

Apparently because he was disturbed by his girl friend's refusal to marry him, a 19-year-old South Bay Dragoon operator Johnny Harrel Collins, stepped to the side of Highway 37 Sunday morning and fired a fatal shotgun blast into the side of his head, investigating officers reported.

The death was termed an apparent suicide, witnessed by two persons from short distances away.

County Detective Sgt. Hilton Bonard who helped with investigation of the case, said that the Collins youth had told other persons previously that he planned to take his own life.

Collins' 18-year-old girl friend refused his proposal of marriage last Saturday night, the detective said, explaining that she was too young to be married.

A note found in the clothes of the dead youth indicated that he had planned to kill himself, officers said.

South Bay Police Chief Ralph Ward stated that young Collins borrowed a 12 gauge shotgun from Frankie Teal, also of South Bay, on the pretext of using it to shoot an alligator. Patrolman R. D. Raulerson and Deputy Sheriff David Ray also took part in the investigation.

Sees Shooting
P. B. Smith, operator of a service station near the scene of the shooting, told officers that he saw Collins walking along the highway carrying with him a shotgun. Smith said the boy just walked off the road a few feet and fired the fatal blast.

Another eye-witness to the tragedy was Levi Whitehead, of South Bay, who was operating a tractor nearby. Whitehead told officers he saw the youth bend over and place the gun barrel against his head. The witness said he heard the shot and saw the boy fall to the ground.

Investigators learned that Collins had talked with his stepfather, Albert Strickland, in an ending place on the highway the banks of the Hillsboro, near where the Schleichters now live. Mr. Hooker, as it's first teacher at the multifaceted school of 860, had some of his own children, Margaret West, Aleese Stein and the Kirchman boys as pupils.

The School Board furnished the lumber and parents furnished the hammers and strong arms for building.

In '22 the rains came in torrents and made Glades farming almost impossible. The Hookers moved to Miami, but when the "boom bust" came about eyes were turned again to the Glades.

In 27-28 some farming was done in the Glades, and the family returned to Chosen in August of '29.

As the farming grew in operation, a packinghouse was acquired and the two combined in the early thirties through '40.

In December of '33, Mr. Hooker joined C. E. Reifel, Joe Freidheim and Slick Kirchman in the organization and chartering of Everglades Federal Savings & Loan Association, with a paid in capital of $2400.

Since that time Mr. Hooker's association with the oldest Federal Savings & Loan in the County has seen it's assets in millions.

As Vice President of the Association, Mr. Hooker busies himself with appraisals and construction inspections for the Association.

Mr. Hooker is one of five living charter members of Belle Glade's Rotary Club, all of whom are Past Presidents of the group.

Mrs. Lee Eckman Called To Pa. By Brother's Death

Mrs. Lee Eckman is in Charleston, Pa., where she was called by the sudden death of her only brother, Fred Sisley, age 55.

The brother, who seemed in usual good health, had gone out to play golf and was stricken with a first and fatal heart attack.

Mrs. Eckman phoned her husband here, that she was so overcome with shock that she was hospitalized and unable to attend the funeral service.

The Sisley family will be remembered by many in South Bay, who knew them when they lived here for a year back in 1948-49. Mrs. Sisley (Harriet) taught school for one term in Lake Harbor, and they have since visited here several times.

They frequently considered returning to Florida to live when they retired.

This is Mrs. Eckman's third trip home in a year due to deaths in the family; first her brother-in-law, and three months ago her father passed away.

Mrs. Eckman is spending two weeks with her sister Mrs. T. E. Pellicer in Burnell, Florida.

Mr. Jay Miller and Franny spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warren.

Mrs. Bessie Smith has just returned from three weeks vacation where she visited with relatives in Ashburn, Georgia.

Mrs. William Masonic and daughter Gail are spending two weeks on business and pleasure in Orlando.

Mrs. Alla Elliott Rites Held Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Alla Halverson Elliott, of 480 Friend Terrace, Pahokee, was held Saturday morning, 10:00 o'clock in the Chapel of Wetherington Funeral Home, with Rev. John A. Briley, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Pahokee, conducting the service.

Mrs. Elliott had been in declining health for some time, and at the time of her death, was a patient in the Eason Nursing Home, Lake Worth.

Survivors include one son, Jess Elliott, of Pahokee; three grandsons, and one great-granddaughter.

Active pallbearers were: James W. Vann, Marshall Lair, Len Shirley, Lewis Friend, Roy Vandegift, Jr., and Curtis Chase.

Interment was in the Port Mayaca Cemetery.

Another defendant listed as Rufus Fields, 53, of Davis Quarters, Pahokee, pleaded guilty to charges of open profanity and public drunkenness. He was fined $25 or 10 days in jail on each count, the sentences to run consecutively.

IS RACE THE ISSUE?

"But what are my rights?" was the question that restaurant owners were asking most frequently before their final decisions to comply with President Johnson's new law on integration of eating establishments here.

To those of us who have watched the gradual climb from a small, "hole-in-the-wall" coffee shop to a spacious, modern air-conditioned restaurant, and the taking over of a condemned building and through hard work and ingenious planning converting it into a semi-exclusive and popular eating establishment, objection by restaurant operators to the new law, disregarding race issues, was understandable and commendable.

Retaining understanding at the grass roots level, among citizens of all colors and creeds is a must in correcting any and all unfair law infringements.

Hard work and the will to do, against all obstacles, and with borrowed or limited funds, is the history back of most small business operations. The many problems confronting small businesses today — the mounting interference by government agencies — are sowing seeds of bitterness and giving a definite right to question many of our laws.

Our Negro citizens are also to be commended and their progress and efforts are recognized for the progress they have made in our community. During recent years the development of business firms and provision of modern improved housing has gained for them much attention and respect. The cooperation and accomplishments of the Negro citizens through the organization of the Belle Glade Progressive Citizens has done much to improve conditions and their efforts are still forging ahead.

Intelligent people of all races recognize and accept the fact that social acceptance cannot be legislated. Fear that the "Civil Rights" law only provides the tool to be used toward enslaving all men is prevalent.

Recourse is still ours in our right to THINK and to VOTE. If we fail to exercise that right we have only ourselves to blame. REGISTRATION BOOKS ARE NOW OPEN. DON'T FAIL TO REGISTER . . . AND TO VOTE!

Not The Party . . . But The Man!

"Too Late To Classify"
By Russell Kay

Results of recent primaries and the Republican convention tend to indicate the disturbed state of mind that exists throughout the nation.

They have reached the point where they want to know just where this country is going. For some time there has been little choice between parties. It has been "me too" and the things that have made this country great have been going down the drain.

Citizens are worried about big government, false assurances, political hokey and hokum, juvenile and adult delinquency, senseless spending and squandering of the nation's resources. The license given hate groups, Communists, the Ku Klux Klan, the Birch Society and countless others, lack of respect for law and order, graft and corruption in high places and the tendency of our courts to "laugh everything off" and encourage the lawyers in their efforts to impede justice and protect the criminal.

This is not the America our fathers and forefathers fought for. This is not the America we were taught to respect and defend. They say history repeats itself, well we have gone a long way down the road that history points to as disaster areas.

We want something done about communism in this country, communism in our schools and colleges, on the streets and in government and elsewhere. We want something done to curb general disrespect for law and order, the steady increase in our crime rate, mob violence, big labor, political fear and pussy footing.

We listen to men like Wallace and Goldwater, realizing their shortcomings and the dangers of their philosophies, but we know we can't go on fighting wars we can never hope to win, internal disruption, criminal lineage, senseless squandering of the nation's wealth and resources indefinitely.

All we ask is sound, sensible, dependable leadership and we don't care what label it might bear, Republican, Democrat or Independent.

In our pursuit of the almighty dollar, of personal pleasure and advantage, we have neglected the duties of citizenship that might have saved us from our present plight. We placed the value on the privilege of the ballot, we avoid jury duty, make no effort to back up our police and hire shyster lawyers to get us off the hook when lawlessness catches up with us.

We are sick and we need help. Goldwater may help, he may not. But we know in our hearts we are in bad trouble and we have reached the point where we are ready to grasp any straw that gives even halfway promise of answering our need.

Help Clean Up Belle Glade

A PORTION OF PGCS COOKIE SALE PROFITS is presented by Neels Sills, chairman of the council finance committee (center) and Robert J. Allen, Belle Glade member of the same committee (right) to Richard Poston for savings deposit here.

Mr. Sills stated that in round figures, some 5,000 Girl Scouts sold nearly 100,000 boxes of cookies to put approximately $18,000 into the capital improvement funds of the council. $8,000, was spent this spring in additions and improvements to the council property. Robert Allen announced, principally at Camp Weleska. The rest — $10,000 was divided in half and placed in reserve savings accounts in Belle Glade and Jupiter for future use.

Mr. Poston complimented the Girls Scout Council for holding a strong reserve and stated that he was glad Everglades Federal could be of service to the Girl Scout Council. These capital funds are not to be confused with the annual council operating budget of over $40,000 which is raised from local fund drives, and covers the normal council operating expenses which are necessary to provide a strong and effective program for the girls.

Ex-soldier Urges Fellow Negroes To Be Self-reliant, Industrious

Grand Teton Nat'l Park

Verde Mathewson

Belle Glade, Florida

This is a wonderful sight! We took a trip thru the Teton and Saw the 13,766 ft snow capped Grand Teton peak as we entered the south park gate. Saw four moose and the bears today. This trail-rail is fine. We are really enjoying this trip; both girls are saving a good time too.

We as Negroes need to do for ourselves as much as we can. Learn to be more clean and decent. Respect your own women and children. Clean up your streets. Let the white people of Sebring see that you want to be decent. It would not be so hard for them to accept you.

Pat and I visited Sunday School. Very few children were there. I noticed many running up and down the street and all kinds of cursing. Some of the men were sitting around dirty. Please let us clean up. Let the other side see that we want to be nice.

Remember we do have some nice people, but one rotten apple will spoil a whole barrel. This is what every Negro mother and father should do. Teach your sons and daughters. Some are going up and down the street hollering, "Civil Rights". They don't know what it means.

I am pleading with our girls and boys to go to school and get an education so you will be qualified for those things you are seeking. May God help you to know what civil rights means. It does not mean what some of the colored people are thinking.

You have your freedom; now what are you going to do with it? Without an education you are not qualified for a decent job. Fulton Street in Brooklyn, I met two old colored men. Both were very feeble. One said, "I know that you're right now, and nobody can do nothing to it."

So the other one said to him, "Well can you tell any difference some you have it? You look like the same to me. You are still wearing those old dirty trousers and shirt. You haven't a job. I am sending this article to you, I feel like you have your civil rights, let the white people know that you are decent. Remember I am a Negro ex-soldier. I have been overseas. I have served a bit, and I know there is so much for the Negro race to do for itself.

We need to love one another; pull together; be more respectable and the white people will respect you.

I am sending this letter to you, and I should like to see it in many more papers in the South.

Labor Retirement Home Benefits From Holland-Smathers Tax Bill

Senator Spessard Holland's 16-month long effort to assist a labor union in the continuing operation of a retirement home in Florida for its elderly members was successfully concluded today when President Johnson signed into law a bill exempting certain types of income from federal taxation.

The Senate version of the bill, authored and introduced by Senator Holland for himself and Senator Smathers, was designed to relieve an inequity suffered by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners which has maintained a retirement home for its members in Lakeland, Fla., since 1928. Operation of the home depends, in great part, upon income derived from an adjacent citrus grove which the union purchased with retirement funds paid by its membership. A 1962 federal tax ruling deemed the grove profits as unrelated income subject to normal federal taxation.

The union was assessed $1.63 million as total taxes due, together with penalties and interest, for the period 1951-60. The carpenters union paid the assessed taxes, but in protest, in order to halt further accumulation of indebtedness.

Believing the ruling to be unfair, the union sought to require abolition of a needed haven for the aged, and would have the organizations of the union, from caring for their own, Senators Holland and Smathers introduced corrective legislation in February, 1963. Congressman James A. Haley offered a companion bill in the House. The House lately passed similar legislation sponsored by Congressman Byrnes, of Wisconsin, and the Senate approved this amendment in the House on August 3, 1964. The House accepted a Senate amendment which eliminated retroactive aspects of the legislation, and established December 31, 1963 as the date from which tax exemptions will become effective.

Upon learning of the signing of the bill, Senator Holland said, "I am greatly pleased with the President's action in this matter. In my opinion, the Internal Revenue decision which created the problem for the retirement home in our state and similar ones operated by unions in other parts of the country was inequitable. Had it remained in effect, the sponsor of the bill would have found it impossible to care for their retiree, thus robbing these deserving oldsters of their independence and forcing many of them onto the public welfare rolls. I feel a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment in having assisted in correcting this situation and eliminating a highly undesirable alternative."

Two former residents of Belle Glade walked off with top honors for the women's team of the Palm Beach Pin Diver's Spearfishing. The girls are Miss Ruthie Browne, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Browne, reside on W. Lake Road, and Dorothea Schwallier, who formerly did bookkeeping and accounting for Lake Gas Company here.

Miss Browne is now living in West Palm Beach, where she has been director of Health, Physical Education and Recreation of the City's YWCA, and has instructed over 8,000 children in swimming and life saving.

Miss Dorothea Schwallier moved with her husband, Tom, to Jupiter, Florida, where he set up another Gas Company. Mr. Schwallier is better known locally as "the gas man."

The two girls won the third of a three-state elimination spearfishing tournament which was staged by the Southeast Council of Florida, out of Riviera Beach.

Winning the Southeast Council State Championship qualifies the girls to compete as a team in the National Spearfishing Championship in Plymouth, Massachusetts, August 3rd through the 9th for the title of U. S. Spearfishing Champion.

Today's Popular Mode Of Travel... A Complete "Home on the Road"

We're told you "needn't be in the chips" to take a month's vacation... not if you're camping inched... and if you'd like a few pointers on related camping gear and how to plan the trip in advance, the Robert Allen family will be glad to help you.

The Allens, Dr. Robert, wife Evelyn, married daughter Carol (Mrs. J. L. Kenyon now) and 10 year old son Bobby, have just returned from a 5,000 mile trip, and, as a friend listening to a report remarked to Dr. Allen: "You got more out of a trip than anyone I ever knew!" That must easily be explained. The family has been keenly interested in Scout work and the parents tally up 28 years between them of Scout leadership.

This has taught them the pleasure, and all the tricks about camping out life, and they all have acquired an intense appreciation for nature.

In a self-built and self-designed two wheel trailer, complete with stove and refrigerator, they carried all the kitchen necessities for a family of four. Enroute to Amherst, Mass., they camped out overnight in state, national and private parks in South Carolina, Virginia, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. "In addition to Hotels, Bunkhouses, Motels, and Tourists, they now have 'Fentels'," the Allens told us, as it's evident camping out has come into its own.

A staff member of Everglades Experiment Station, Dr. Allen syndicated business with pleasure and attended the Gladesland Council Field Day at Penn State University. He then visited a farm machinery plant in New Holland, and while the family enjoyed side nature tours as guests of the firm, he attended a filmed agricultural education program.

Next, was a visit to the National Boy Scout Headquarters in New Brunswick, when a misadventure-half hike didn't begin to take in everything. Visiting his old Alma Mater in Amherst, the Allens toured the new educational Dept with the most complete Physical Ed facilities in the world - including a gym large enough for eight basketball teams to play simultaneously.

They then made a two day visit with Mrs. Allen's relatives in Maine, visited relatives and old college friends in Massachusetts and were on road for Mr. Allen's mother's 80th birthday.

Following a visit to the Wright Brothers Museum and Memorial.

Glades Softball League City Products And Rashley's Debut in Final Week

City Products and Rashley's Dry Cleaners both suffered an upset last week, and as the week began they were again back in the hot action in the Glades Softball League.

Glades Drive-In beat City Products 2-1 despite a cashed effort by the 1-2 duo, Fred and George. The two have come from behind in the 1-2, losing to John H. Hays 6-5. Frank Kuss hit 1-2 and 2-2, and the two won the game 1-0. The two have run to win in the Futures. City Products, which played with a 9-3 win from the Futures as Phil Bonnell pitched a 3-0 for his sixth win.

He won his seventh game

City Products Champions Glades Softball League

Phil Bonnell pitched a one-hitter and struck out 12 Rashley batters, while Butch Barker hit two home runs and George Mills one, as City Products blanked Rashley's Dry Cleaners, 6-0, in a showdown match of the two teams that had been tied for first place in the Glades Softball League.

Standings: Bonnell had 2 outs in the seventh inning, before giving up a single to Jerry Parsons. The win from Rashley's only assured City Products a tie in the standings, but Bonnell returned in form to hurl a 3-hitter at Loxahatchee's Prison Farm, and Korman won it 3-2 on Alvy Early's 3-run homer. Bonnell struck out 9 Loxahatchee batters, running his league-leading total to 97, while pitching only 3 1/2 innings.

Rashley's supplanted Bryant, U. S. C. 4-3, to finish only one game behind City Products. Earl Vann won his eleventh game against three losses, allowing only three hits in his comeback effort after being roughed up for 14 hits by City Products. Geneva's edged the Futures 2-2, and outlasted Billy Rogers' Farms 19-14, to finish the season with a 9-3 record.

Loxahatchee's Prison Farm took third place as they beat Geneva, 7-5, and pounded Billy Rogers' Farms 20-4.

Plans are being made for an All-Star team, composed of players from all teams, to play the League Champion City Products' team a best 2 out of 3 series.

Pros Scouting ix-Rams Star

One of Belle Glade's Golden Rams, Marvin "Butch" Davis, of the 1960 class, is reported on the list of professional football scouts, after a very successful year as junior tackle at Wichita State University in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Butch, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Davis, of South Bay, starred with the Belle Glade Rams on the All-Sun-Scout Conference Team. The 6-foot-4, 240-pound tackle credits his success to his high school coach, Jim Maynor, who "gave me the fundamentals and the desire to play good football."

Termining Butch as one of the best tackles in the nation, Coach Chico Huerta, of Wichita State University, predicted that he former Belle Glade star will be among the top draft choices of the pros when drafting time comes.

I rejoice with those who rejoice, and am apt to weep with those who weep, but over and above it all are eternal sunshine and joy unspokeable.

Co. Com. Employees Will Be Paid While Serving With CAP

County Commission employees who also double as members of the Civil Air Patrol got a break in their pocket books this week. CAP members, like many other public service organizations, are subject to call in emergencies, which sometimes means time off from their regular job. The county commission agreed this week not to dock any employee who is off the job because of a CAP emergency. At the same time the board instructed its attorney to check workmen's compensation regulations covering employees on CAP duty.

GENERAL PANORAMIC VIEW OF JAMBOREE AT VALLEY FORGE — This is about a 25th of the 1800 acres used for the 8th National Jamboree of Boy Scouts of America, in Valley Forge Park, Valley Forge, Pa., which was attended by 55,000. Many differences were found between Valley Forge Life now and in 1777, when Washington's Army of 11,000 suffered from scarcity of food, cold and sickness. This year's Jamboree demonstrated Scouting at its best and Scouts and Leaders came home with an unforgettable understanding of George Washington's Prayer after Inauguration: "Almighty God, we make our earnest prayers that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy Holy protection; that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; to entertain a brotherly love and affection for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large."

Rogers Says Castro's Heyday Over

Congressman Paul Rogers says Fidel Castro's heyday is over and that a review of some of the Cuban dictator's recent setbacks prove it.

"The tide is definitely running against him now," Rogers said, "and 'Castrophobia' is easing in Latin America."

The Florida Congressman said that the Organization of American States, sanctions shutting off Cuban-Latin American trade was a real body blow not only to the economy but to Cuban national prestige as well as its was imposed by the Latin American people themselves acting through the O. A. S.

Rogers' comments included the following enumeration of Castro's more significant recent defeats:

1. declining free world shipping to Cuba.
2. Cuban sugar crop declines—lowest harvest in 20 years—depriving Castro of badly needed income and foreign credits.
3. The Cuban dictator's sister Juanita Castro escaping Cuba to tell the world of her brother's inhuman regime.
4. Failure to establish a single communist regime in any Latin American country.

"However, there is still a communist regime in Cuba, and we must not let up until it is removed," Rogers said. "With the hemisphere now on record against any free world trade with communist Cuba, great pressure must be brought on our European allies to get their cooperation in the new embargo," the Congressman concluded.

Trip To Jamaica Awarded Dealers

Mr. and Mrs. John E. White are being rewarded for outstanding sales performance with an all-expense paid trip to Jamaica and will take with them their service and sales manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gillin.

The four-day vacation will include other south Florida dealers who met top performance quotas.

Leaving this Friday, Aug. 7, they will fly to Montego Bay, and will stay at the Royal Caribbean Hotel. Entertainment includes a tour to Kingston, a deep sea fishing trip on Saturday, a floor show Saturday night, planned entertainment Sunday and a beach party Monday night.

They will leave from Miami at 9:45 by chartered jet, and return home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. White are owners and operators of White's Radio and TV, 164 W. Avenue A.

Farm Bureau Bldg. Near Completion

Construction on the new Everglades Farm Bureau Building is moving along and members are hoping it will be completed in time for the annual Everglades Farm Bureau meeting, October 17th.

The bureau will move into the new building located opposite Glades Office Building some time next month and will occupy the three offices assigned to their use, while the rest of the building is being completed and grounds landscaped.

The Farm Exchange will occupy two of the four remaining offices. Two of the remaining office spaces are as yet not spoken for.

The rest of the building will house a modern kitchen equipped to serve large gatherings that use the spacious meeting hall on the east end of the building.

When completed the Everglades Farm Bureau Building will be one of the most modern in the state, and will be a great asset to Belle Glade.

Florida Farmers Sell $8 Million To Winn-Dixie

Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., operating a number of supermarkets in the local area, bought direct from Florida farmers more than $8 million worth of fresh fruits and vegetables during the fiscal year ending June 27, a substantial increase over last year.

This figure represents only the purchases made through the company's field-buying offices in Fuboket, Plant City and Pempano. During the past fiscal year, they totaled $8,388,335 compared with $6,695,248 the previous fiscal year.

Joe A. Adams in charge of perishable merchandising at general headquarters in Jacksonville, Fla., emphasized that the company's primary consideration is moving Florida products first. Winn-Dixie currently operates 630 supermarkets throughout the Southeast.
